VOLUME IV NUMBER 380 — LA CROSSE WISCONSIN, MONDAY, MARCH 9, 1908. — PRICE TWO CENTS

EXPECT HOURLY THAT JAPS WILL STRIKE AT CHINA

LATTER HAS NOT REPLIED TO MIKADO'S ULTIMATUM

RUSSIA IN THE CONSPIRACY

Long List of Aggressions Aimed to Rob China of Manchuria Are Shown Up

TOKIO, March 9.—Revolutionaries are occupying Kwangsi province, and plan to inaugurate a civil government for all southern China. The insurgents have arms and ammunition, and a serious uprising is feared. Chinese claim the insurrection was connived at by the Japanese, who have furnshed the arms very much as they were being supplied by the captured ship "Tatsu." This is denied by the Japanese.

Boats Are Moving.

It is announced that a part of the first squadron will leave port on March 14. The armored cruiser Chi Yoda suddenly left port last night. Coaling is proceedingly rapidly, a number of torpedo boat destroyers having already coaled. Enormous scpplies in storage at Sasebro are being hurried aboard the xessels.

At the office of the admiralty it is pointed out that the first squadron is expected to start on training maneuvers this week, a fact announced two months ago, therefore the activity at Sasebro should not necessarily be considered in connection with the Tatsu incident.

LONDON, March 9.—News of active aggression against China is hourly expected. China has not replied to Japan's ultimatum, and the forcible recovery of the steamer Tatsu is expected. Considerable activity is going on in the Japanese army.

The Chinese board of foreign affairs is determined that it shall not retreat from the stand it has taken until a thorough investigation of the matter be made.

China has proposed that the shipment of arms and ammunition on the Tatsu be recalled and that the permit of such shipment be canceled, and it further asks for pledges from Japan looking to the suppression of the traffic in arms and ammunition to the mainland through Japanese sources.

Fail to Draw Jortugal In

The attempt of the Japanese to draw Portugal into the incident has been met by the emphatic assertion on the part of the Chinese authorities that the vessel was seized on the high seas and that therefore there was no violation of the law governing Portuguese waters.

This statement has been sent to the government officials at Lisbon to forestall any message or plea for assistance which may be sent by the Japanese.

Serious as the Tatsu incident is, it is regarded here as merely the climax of a series of offenses committed by the Japanese.

The real cause is attributed to the desire of the mikado's government to

This is the architects' plan of the splendid new Normal School which the state will erect in La Crosse as a result of the efforts of Senator Thomas Morris.

BAILEY'S OPINION OF THE PRESIDENT

STRANGE MIXTURE OF GOOD AND BAD IN HIM

TEXAN SAYS HE NEVER DID

Roosevelt Not Responsible for Panic, but Is Unfair to States—Nix on Aldrich Bill

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 9.—Senator Bailey of Texas criticized the Aldrich bill in the senate today. Referring to Roosevelt, he said:

"I never before have seen such a mixture of good and evil in a public man. Before we have finished praising him for a wise recommendation he makes another so foolish that the praise turns to censure. The president is not responsible for the panic. He has demanded that the railroads deal justly with the people. He has done good by arousing public attention to corporate evils, but he has done harm by dwarfing the states, and exalting the general government."

Bailey is opposed to the Culberson (Texas) measure.

KAISER'S LETTER SECRET

LONDON, March 9.—Lord Asquith, chancellor of the exchequer, speaking for the government, refused today to give parliament the kaiser's letters to Lord Tweedmouth. He said it is regarded as unofficial and will be kept private.

DARING PLAN FOR ESCAPE IS FATAL

PRISON WARDEN'S THROAT IS CUT BY CONVICT

SECOND WARDEN SHOOTS TWO

Deer Lodge Lifers Enter Warden's Office and Start Bloody but Fruitless Battle for Liberty

DEER LODGE, Mont., March 9.—As the result of a desperate effort to escape on the part of three life prisoners in the Montana state penitentiary Guard Robinson is dead with his throat cut, Convict Hakes is dead with four bullets through his body, Convict Rock is fatally injured with two bullets through his lungs, and Warden Conley, who wielded the weapon which shot the two convicts, is probably fatally wounded, his throat being cut and a knife being thrust into his back five times. Only the shortness of the knife blade saved Conley's life.

Hayes was a trusty and had been placed in the cell with Rock in order that he might keep track of his cellmate, who was regarded as a desperate man. Yesterday Rock, Hayes and the third man committed a small infraction of the rules and were ordered before Warden Conley for investigation.

An infraction was deliberately done, in order that the men might be taken into the warden's private office. Guard Robinson escorted the three convicts into Conley's office and turned to lock the door.

Rock leaped upon Ribonsin and, before he had an opportunity to resist, cut his throat with a small knife.

As Robinson sank to the floor Rock stabbed him several times, thus losing a few moments time, which eventually proved the undoing of the convict's plan of escape.

At the moment Rock attacked Robinson, Hayes attacked Conley with a knife. Conley's throat was also cut, but the officer broke Hayes' grasp and retreated, drawing his revolver, and fired four bullets into him.

Hayes died instantly and Rock was stopped by the two remaining bullets in Conley's revolver.

The firing attracted the attention of the other guards, who came running just as the third convict unlocked the door and attempted to escape.

HANSON FIRST TO BRING THE MONEY

FARMINGTON COUNTY TREASURER IN EARLY MORNING STUNT

CARRIES $7,909 IN "JEANS"

Official of Biggest Town in County First to Deliver Taxes to Mr. Weimer

"What's yon that follows at my side?
The foe that ye must fight, my lord.
That hirples fast as I can ride?
The shadow of the night, my lord."

If something like this ghostly stanza of Kipling's did not run through the mind of Alfred H. Hanson, treasurer of the town of Farmington, this morning, it was because he has steady nerves and is not afraid of his shadow.

Farmington is the largest town in the county, but notwithstanding that fact Mr. Hanson determined to be the first town treasurer to deliver taxes to the county treasurer. He made good. The total taxes in Farmington are about $14,000, and at the hour of opening this morning Mr. Hanson strode into the presence of County Treasurer Weimer and delivered to him, in cash, the sum of $7,909.43.

Hanson arose at 3 o'clock this morning, and after a quick breakfast took the road with his carriage, carrying on his person the great sum of public money above mentioned.

"It was not as plain as day," said Mr. Hanson. "I confess that I wasn't looking for inquiries about the time of day, or the loan of a match. It came out all right, though, and I got in on time, the first county treasurer to come over with the long green."

"Am I the first one in?" asked Hanson.

"You bet you are," said Weimer.

And then Treasurer Hanson smiled a smile of great satisfaction, and went on about his business.

Littleton, Thaw's Counsel, and John D. Lindsay Appear for Accused Company

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 9.—The Lilley inquiry, investigating the charge that improper methods were used by the Submarine Boat company before congressional committees to secure a government contract, began his morning.

Martin W. Littleton, who defended Harry Thaw, appears for the boat company, and associated with him is John D. Lindsay, of New York.

The charges were read at the opening, after which Lilley asked that the witnesses be called in the order which he desired. He also asked for counsel to assist him. Lilley declared that he was being shadowed by detectives, and said he wanted this insulting practice stopped.

A., fell and slid 1,200 feet over a precipice on Mount Wilson about a week ago and sustained injuries of such seriousness that for a time her life wos despaired of. The story was suppressed until physicians declared her out of danger. Miss Greene went out alone from the Alpine Tavern on the mountain. She chose the "Rim" trail for a walk. When she reached a dangerous spot known as "The Knob" she slipped and fell about 100 feet to the deep snow on a shelving rock. Hehe she lost consciousness.. She was found 1,200 feet below on the mountain side and rescued by friends at the Tavern.

GUARDS IN COURT IN THE ALIO TRIAL

DENVER, Col., March 9.—Spectators were subjected to rigid scrutiny before their admission to the court room where the trial of Guiseppe Alio, assassin of Father Heinrichs, is being conducted today. Armed guards are stationed in the room. Attorney Robert H. Widdecomb represents Alio by court appointment, and an insanity plea is expected. All Catholic jurors are being challenged. Alio is under heavy guard.

PUT LID ON GOLDMAN

CHICAGO, March 9.—Emma Goldman, propounder of the doctrines of anarchy, did not make a public address in Chicago yesterday, as it had been her announced purpose to do. Strict orders issued by the police during the week to owners and managers of public halls left her without a place in which to hold a meeting.

An attempt by members of the So-Science league, a radical organization, to hold a meeting in a room in the Masonic temple was frustrated by the police last night. Some 200 members of the society gathered in expectation of hearing a speech by Miss Goldman, not kniwing that permission to hold the meeting had been denied by the agent of the building.

Upon refusal by some of the disappointed ones to disperse when ordered by the watchman to do so the police were summoned and the hall was cleared.

TO TALK STRIKE

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 9.—Delegates to the miners' convention are expected to return Thursday for the opening of the convention to consider the operators' refusal to meet the miners. DIAMONDS WITHIN THE REACH OF ALL

LONDON, March 9.—There is a probability, according to the Daily Mail, that the diamond monopoly will be broken up through the non-renewal of the contract, which expires this month, between the Premier Diamond Mining company and the diamond syndicate, which hitherto has taken the output of both the Premier and the De Beers company. In case the contract is not renewed war will be declared by the Premier company against the De Beers. The diamond syndicate practically controls the world's output, amounting to about 50,000,000 annually.

ALFONSO TO TAKE PERILOUS TRIP TO BARCELONA TODAY

BARCELONIA, Spain, March 9.—King Alphonso is expected here tonight to greet the visiting Australian fleet. Violence is feared. The king will come in spite of requests from King Edward and the Kaiser that he avoid danger. He says that he "is not afraid." There are active anarchists in the city.

The city is being extensively decorated to give the king a creditable and enthusiastic reception. Nevertheless, the greatest concern is felt as to the king's safety, owing to the activity of the Barcelonaian revolutionists and anarchists, who recently have created almost a reign of terror. There have been five bomb explosions here since Jan. 1, and not a single culprit has been caught.

In addition to the troops, who will line the routes wherever the king goes, practically all the civil guards in Spain, except edtachments in Andalusia, are concentrated here, and 800 police have been specially drafted for this service.

POWERS LOSES FIRST ROUND

LEXINGTON, Ky., March 9.—Caleb Powers, who announced himself from his cell in Georgetown as candidate for republican nomination for congress in the eleventh district to succeed Don C. Edwards, has lost the first round in his fight. Edwards and the Taft forces winning their selection of the convention date. Powers and his friends, who are Fairbanks men, asked that the convention be held late, by which time, Powers announces, he expects to be free. Edwards and his Taft supporters, however, desired an early date and at a meeting of the committee at Corbin, Ky., last night selected June 6 to hold the convention. Republicans generally say that say that Powers has made a mistake in announcing his candidacy for congress

WIZARD SHAEFER TO QUIT MATCHES

CHICAGO, March 9.—When the crowd files out of Orchestra hall Wednesday afternoon the Shaefer-Hoppe billiard match for the championship of the world at 18.1 style of balk line, Jake Schaefer will have been seen in his last big match contest.

Schaefer is going to quit. He will leave the active competition for title for younger men, though he will not admit that they are better men. He is through for all time, he says, with match contests for any sort of title. He finds the strain of training for these battles too wearing. The "wizard" is around the half-entury mark now. He expects to make a tour for exhibitions soon.

"If I lose Wednesday Hoppe may rest assred I will never bother him again for his emblem or his title," he said. "If I should be so fortunate as to defeat this wonderful young man I will at once return to emblem to the donors and request that they arrange an open tournament to decide a new champion, or I will relinquish the emblem to the first man who challenges for it. I am through."

FIXING AFFAIRS IN NORTHERN LEAGUE

DULUTH, Minn., March 9.—A meeting of the Northern league magnates will be held in Duluth soon to consider the report of the schedule committee and discuss matters generally relating to the approaching season.

Artie O'Dea, formerly manager of the Duluth White Sox, will manage the Brandon, Minn., team, which will this year be in the Northern league. Ted Sullivan has had no trouble fixing matters up with the Superior people, and he will manage that team this season. He has been signing players in the copper country. Manager Robbie Lynch of the Eau Claire team is signing additional players. It is now expected that "Butch" Keneally will govern first base for the Duluth White Sox.

An Unfortunate Loan

"Lend my dress suit? Not on your life!" replied Chief clerk Moale of the transportation department of the Southern Pacific. "And get it in the neck the way Corrigan did, eh?"

"What happened to Corrigan?"

"Well, two years ago a fellow whom he knew slightly borrowed Corrigan's dress suit to go to a dance. Next thing Corrigan heard was that the fellow had dropped dead of heart disease. Corrigan went to the funeral to do the right thing. When he peeked into the casket he noticed the deceased had on his dress suit. The undertaker had picked it out because it was the only dark suit in the fellow's wardrobe. Corrigan wept real tears when he saw them lowering the coffin into the grave. That was his first and last dress suit. He vowed he'd never get another."—San Francisco Chronicle.

THE SPORT WORLD.

WHY WE'RE PICKING ONTO BABY SISTER

ROCKFORD SPORTING WRITERS ARE GOOD NATURED

CAUSTICITY HURTS THE GAME

And There Was Too Much of it Last Season; Anyway There's to be Some Far-echoing Thunder

(By Jiminy Crickets.)

Rockford complains,—or no,—merely comments,—that the alchemists of baseball dope in La Crosse must fall back on Rockford for "copy."

There is a method in our madness. We're training Rockford.

Last season the bitterness which seeped into the baseball dope about the league was a serious handicap to success. Sporting writers grew so harsh that riots were not uncommon when the fans were stirred to the proper pitch of excitement. Freeport hated anything labeled La La Crosse and vice versa, and the condition grew to be general between all the clubs. Patrons of the game joined in the bitterness to the detriment of the receipts of all clubs. All in all the condition was very bad.

Rockford is the baby member of the league and the character of Rockford in manhood, will be moulded by surrounding influence, like the toddler of the nursery who one day must enter the fight. Rockford is due to be a strapping fellow at a very early date if the elixir of Mike Golden operates as expected, so we are paying a lot of attention to Rockford because we are anxious to start the toddler right. Like the indulgent father, we want to see Rockford grow up to be a big, good-natured man, loving sport for sport's sake, and loving his neighbors because it is best that way. We want to get the sporting writers of Rockford—and the rest of the circuit as well—into a good humor, so that when the heat of the fray is on they will not let bitterness creep into their copy, mindless that there are multitudes of good fellows in all the other cities who think just as much of their home team.

From what we know, have heard and read we believe Rockford will be a game fighter; that all the clubs will be game fighters this year, but for the sake of the game and of success let it be a contest of skill and brains, and not a brawl of windjamming and brute strength. There's no sport in that. "Love thy neighbor as thyself," and that will be plenty.

A Storm's A-Brewing

Agreeing with us that Mike Golden is a great news source, and denying incidentally that he operates his typewriter with his two first fingers (as we do,) the sporting editor of the Rockford Republic says:

"The La Crosse dope artist does know how literally true he is when he says that Mike is a "star" press agent, for Mike is certainly qualified with a good sized nickled star, being a member of the police force, and as to his ability as a press agent there is no doubt. While the divorce from Eau Claire may be complete it must be remembered the connubial knot amalgamating Rockford with the seven strenuous members of the Wisconsin league hasn't been tied yet and while we haven't the space or inclination to explain the disappointment proposition, if the La Crosse sporting writer whom we realize as extremely clever, will only hold his head to the ground he will hear the roll of far-echoing thunder which on Tuesday will burst upon the Wisconsin league meeting with all its accumulated ferocity."

Heads and Tails

We were never afraid of thunder anyway; it's the lightning that scares us, and we are confident that our "Uncle John" Elliott has all of that in his vest pocket. John's name should have been Job, for he certainly seems to control the fiery bolts when the fury of the storm breaks, and the thunders crash in their imaginary cannonade. Of course Mike may have something up his sleeve besides his wrist, but we feel satisfied he will not be able to work any magician stunt that John isn't "next" to.

Without disrespect to Mike we feel impelled, in our enthusiasm for the home association, to say the situation reminds us of the "heads I win and tails you lose" gag we had worked on us when we were fresh from the rolling meadows of inexperience. Might it not be that John is the head and does the thinking that makes us win, while Mike is busy wagging? Well, anyway, be good natured when you hand it back.

Freeport Wants Dates

Freeport Bulletin: When President Rodemeyer of the Freeport Baseball association goes to Milwaukee to attend the meeting of the delegates of the Wisconsin-Illinois league for the purpose of conferring with the representatives of the other teams of the league about the schedule of games, he will have one date distinctly in mind. The fiftieth anniversary of the famous Lincoln-Douglas debate will be held in this city August 27, and it will be the aim of the local president to have one of the teams of the league play here on that date. Labor day will also be observed in this city this year, and as it is the custom of Beloit and Rockford to join in the celebration it is very likely that the Rockford and Freeport teams will cross bats on that date. Last year Labor day was observed at Roskford.

Teams and Managers

The teams and managers in the Wisconsin-Illinois league this summer will be as follows:

Charles F. Moll, president.
Freeport, Thomas Schoonhoven.
Wausau, T. Ferguson.
Madison, Howdy Cassiboine.
Rockford, ———.
La Crosse, Pink Hawley.
Oshkosh, George Bubser.
Green Bay, Jack Corrigan.
Fond du Lac, Frank Newhouse.

LEAGUE LEADING ADVANCEMENT PLAN

PRESIDENT MOLL SAYS MEETING MAY BE HELD SOON

MANY SEEK HIGHER COMPANY

Tomorrow's Meeting Is Expected to Develop Many Interesting Things in Wis.-Ill. Organization

The Wisconsin-Illinois league is being joined in its effort to break into Class "C" company, by other leagues in Class "D," and there is now a strong movement on foot between Class "D" and Class "C" leagues to hold a joint meeting in Chicago the day before the next meeting of the National association to demand a constitutional amendment which will permit their advancement.

President Charles F. Moll, Milwaukee, head of hte Wisconsin-Illinois league, is interested in the movement, as is President Elliott of La Crosse, and is to be joined by the officials of the Iowa State league who are also zealously striving for higher class company.

Present System Unfair.

President Moll calls it admittedly unfair to growing cities that the National association should accept only government census figures, gathered but once in 10 years, as a basis of league classification. He maintains that in many of the Class "D" leagues the population would easily admit them to Class "C" were it not for the constitutional provision of the ruling body. Both the Wisconsin-Illinois league and the Iowa State were refused admission to Class "C" last fall because of the census provision, and if the leagues were to await they could be advanced under the present laws, it would be impossible to go higher until 1910 or probably 1911, when the next government census will be announced.

Many Leagues Anxious.

Leagues known to be anxious to advance from Class "D" to Class "C" are the W.-I., Iowa State, Central Illinois, Canadian, Ohio-Pennsylvania and Maryland, Eastern Illinois, Interstate, Southern Michigan and Tri-State. Other Class "D" leagues expected to be represented at the conference are the Western Pennsylvania, North Texas, Southern New Hampshire, Maine State, Empire, Virginia, Oklahoma-Arkansas and Kansas, Golf Coast and South Carolina.

Not only the Class "D," but the Class "C" leagues are anxious for the change in the rules, and it is expected there will be a large representation of the latter class of organizations at the conference. Practically all of the following Class "C" leagues are anxious to get into Class "B," and will probably send instructed delegates to Chicago: Connecticut, New York State, Three Eye, Northern, New England, Central, Cotton States, Texas and Ohio, and Penna.

It is proposed to ask the National association to amend the constitution or national agreement to provide that the last available population figures be accepted in making classifications. It is cited that the 10-year wait between government "nose counts" is unfair to growing leagues and communities, and is a mistake in the construction of the agreement, now seen by all baseball magnates.

As the Class "D" and "C" organizations are in the majority it is expected that a united effort to have this amendment adopted will have considerable weight with the powers in baseballdom. The agitation is such that the conference may be called this spring, and that a special meeting be asked for action, but more conservative magnates favor permitting the request to go over until the annual meeting of the association in November. This would preclude the possibility of any changes being made in the present season, but would permit the advancement of the various leagues next fall if the efforts of promoters of the scheme were successful.

It is not considered unlikely by baseball magnates whose views have been expressed upon the proposition that the Eastern and Northwestern leagues and the Western association would join with the "D" and "C" classes in an effort to advance from Class "B" to "A" company, where population would permit.

Meeting Tomorrow.

Officers and directors of the Wisconsin-Illinois league will meet in Milwaukee on the afternoon of tomorrow, when the season's schedule which has been prepared by Expert Combes of Milwaukee, will be revised and adopted. While figures have not been made public, it is known that the northern cities, Wausau, Green Bay, Fond du Lac and Oshkosh will open the season in the southern cities, La Crosse, Madison, Rockford and Freeport, and the first couple of weeks of playing will probably be alternating between the southern cities, before the northern teams return to open the season on their home grounds. The schedule has been examined by some of the league directors and is said to be fair to all the teams, though there may be some changes desired in the way of Sunday and holiday home dates.

The Eau Claire-Rockford franchise matter will be officially settled and shelved at Tuesday's meeting. Rockford officials have accepted the terms of the agreement and are now in possession of the Eau Claire franchise. There still exists some feeling over the disposition of the Eau Claire team, influential fans and officials at Rockford claiming that they should have their pick of the aggregation. By the terms of the agreement between President Moll, for the league, and the Eau Claire directors, the latter have the right to retain their players and territory, and there will be a resolution presented at the directors' meeting Tuesday approving the action of the president and settling the controversy. Whether Rockford will object to this settlement is not known as there has been considerable talk from that place of a contest on the players. However, as Michael Golden, head of the baseball movement there, has a good bunch of players at his command, it is not expected that there will be any more disruption over the matter.

It will undoubtedly be possible to get a better line on the make-up of the teams after Tuesday's meeting, as there will be considerable trading of players, and after the meeting the managers will know about what men are being counted on for the positions.

Freeport and La Crosse have signed practically all of their last year teams and a number of new men Rockford and Wausau have complete try-out squads and Fond du Lac has more men than could play on two teams with which to go into training.

The principal excitement at Oshkosh and Green Bay is the solicitation of financial support, both of these cities striving at present to insure the season's success by guarantee funds donated by fans. Madison has lost "Big" Whitmore, considered one of her fastest players, but is lining up a strong chowd, which is expected to hover near the top of the first division.

In nearly all of the cities the directors are devoting the money saved on railroads fares by the substitution of Rockford for Eau Claire to fixing up grounds and grand stands, and the baseball parks over the circuit this year will be in much better shape then ever before in the existence of the league.

OSHKOSH TO TRAIN AT ROCKFORD, ILL.

OSHKOSH, March 9.—Early in April, at Rockford, Ill., George Bubser, manager of the Oshkosh team of the Wisconsin - Illinois Baseball league, will start the practice of some twenty candidates for 1908. The bunch will include the pick of last year's team and some promising new timber.

During the past week some notable additions have been made to the team. Harry Stout, who is acting for the Oshkosh management in Milwaukee, signed "Doc" Himmelstein, said to be the best third baseman of the Milwaukee City league. Manager Bubser has signed Charles Graul of Chicago, a pitcher, who will be a source of interest in the league for the reason that he is a deaf mute. He and "Dummy" Taylor are believed to be the only deaf mute pitchers in the country. George B. Ogden, a pitched, has been secured from the Indiana league. He was accounted the best in the league last season. G. P. Scarlet, a shortstop and utility man, has also been signed from the Indiana league. Another pitcher who has all the appearance of a good man is Charles Carroll, who was with the P. O. M. league last season.

The decision of the national commission giving Fitzporter or White to Oshkosh is regarded as greatly strengthening the club. Fitzporter played first base here last season under the name of White. He was so reserved, but signed with the St. Louis Nationals. He is the best first baseman that the Wisconsin-Illinois league had last year.

Oshkosh fans maintain that they will start the season with the best outfield in the league. Bourgeois will play right. Dolan will be found in center and Johnson in left.

Caldwell, who played second base so acceptably last season, will be retained. Warren will be used as backstop. Sage, the huge pitcher, will be with the team unless Milwaukee recalls him.

CHICAGO DEFEATS ILLINOIS FIVE

CHICAGO, Ill., March 9.—The University of Chicago athletes upset all dope and completely turned the tables on their old down-state rivals when they won a spirited meet with Illinois in Bartlett gymnasium Saturday night, the final score standing: Chicago, 55; Illinois, 31. This was the first time in three years that Chicago has defeated Illinois in an indoor meet.

PRETZELS SIGN TWO NEW STARS

FREEPORT, Ill., March 9.—Feeport and Rockford will stand shoulder to shoulder for Rockford's rights at the Wisconsin-Illinois league meeting Tuesday to arrange details for Rockford's admission to the circuit. President Fred Rodemeier of Freeport was elected delegate from this city, and M. Golden, one of Rockford's promoters, will represent that city.

Pitcher L. L. Limoges of Jefferson, S. D., and Outfielder George Driscoll of Chicago are the newest recrits to the Freeport Pretzels. Limoges signed up Saturday and Driscoll's contract is expected early this week. The South Dakota boy is a promising youngster. He pitched fifty-two games for Jefferson against league teams last season and lost eleven. His records is 115-37 strikeouts per game and only 33-5 hits were gleaned off his delivery. Driscoll is touted as a very clever player, and is turning down a contract with Callahan of the Logan Squares because he wanted to get out of Chicago and into organized baseball.

Among the players who will be given tryouts with the champions are Pitchers Lund of Iowa and Berry of Chicago. Berry weighs 195 pounds, is six feet two inches tall and has a good reputation in league baseball. The Pretzels will take a training trip through Iowa after the first ante-season series with Clinton here.

MAROONS SHIFT BADGER DATE

MADISON, Wis., March 9.—It is probable that the Chicago University football team will play Cornell University at Marshall field next fall and that the date of the game scheduled between Wisconsin and Chicago at Madison will be changed from Nov. 14 to Nov. 21. Dr. C. P. Hutchins, athletic director at Wisconsin, received a letter from Professor A. A. Stagg asking if Wisconsin would consent to changing the date of the maroon-badger game to Nov. 21 if Chicago could schedule a game with Cornell on Nov. 14. Dr. Hutchins immediately answered in the affirmative.

The annual meet of the Western Inter-collegiate Gymnastic association will be held here April 4. Members of the University of Wisconsin basket-ball five are in favor of playing off the tie with Chicago in the event of a tie between the two teams for the western intercollegiate championship. It was agreed that if such a game be arranged it be played before March 13.

BADGER FIVE IN VICTORY OVER MINN.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 9.—Minnesota basketball quintette met defeat Saturday night at the hands of the Wisconsin team, 34 to 14, and the Badgers maintain their equality with the Maroons in western leadership.

Man to man Minnesota was outweighed by several pounds, and though the Gophers fought hard they had no chance to win at any stage of the game. Minnesota started with a rush, scoring the first point on a foul. The Badgers quickly took things in their own hands and ran things as they desired the remainder of the game. Guarding and team work by both teams were a feature. First half ended with a score of 13 to 6 in favor of Wisconsin.

In the second half the Gophers took a brace but efforts to materially increase her score were unsuccessful.

Stiehm was by far the best man on the Wisconsin team and many of those who saw the game consider him superior to Schommer of Chicago.

The standings of the teams are as follows:

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Wisconsin	5	1	.833
Chicago	5	1	.833
Illinois	3	2	.600
Minnesota	0	3	.000
Purdue	0	6	.000

IMPORTANT TO LA CROSSE.

The organized effort that is being promoted by the local organizations of the grocers, merchants and manufacturers and jobbers for the purpose of enhancing the sale and consumption of La Crosse made and La Crosse jobbed goods in La Crosse, is a vastly important one, and to its readers The Tribune presents an urgent plea that they co-operate with the dealers in advancing this cause, by asking for goods that are made or jobbed here. When the customers of La Crosse come to a realization of the fact that, if they will do this, they will be the cause of the difference between manufacturer's cost and retailer's purchase price (the profit of the outside jobber plus manufacturer's profit plus freight) being left here on home jobbed goods, the horse sense of the thing must appeal to them. This would mean, in toto, that hundreds of thousands of dollars now going to outside cities to build them up, would remain here and build up La Crosse.

The Tribune regards this as of the most vital concern to La Crosse. It urges its readers to lend a hand in bringing the movement to a successful conclusion. It hopes that, as soon as its present lack of a leader is overcome, the board of trade join with the other civic bodies in bringing about the desired result. It pledges its own support heartily and unreservedly to the cause. Let us keep La Crosse dollars for La Crosse people and institutions. That is the most direct route to Greater La Crosse.

FOR PUBLIC INSPECTION.

The attitude of La Crosse county farmers supporting an arrangement for the inspection of dressed meats sold in the public market of La Crosse, be inspected under the supervision of the city, is to be commended. It is a wise course, for it would become invaluable aid in the attempt which the farmers are making to stamp out disease among their livestock.

The activity of the farmers and breeders to eliminate tuberculosis and other diseases from cattle and hogs will in the long run, be profitable to them. They have had the wisdom to see this, and instead of trying to hide disease to save their stock, they are aiding the officials in every way to stamp it out. With a government inspector established at the Langdon-Boyd Packing plant, an arrangement for local inspection should not be difficult to make. By it the health of citizens, perhaps the lives of many—might be saved, and at the same time diseases of cattle and hogs might shortly be eliminated.

HE YIELDS TO THE "PARTY"

The candidacy with a string tied to it, just announced for himself by Francis E. McGovern, the "fighting district attorney" of Milwaukee, has raised the question of who holds the string. The answer is, "Your Uncle Ike Stephenson," according to well informed politicians.

The McGovern announcement came under conditions denoting a political fozzle of some sort. It was announced first exclusively in the Daily News. Next morning it was denied in the Free Press, "Uncle Ike's" newspaper. One day later the Free Press announced that, after all, Mr. McGovern was a candidate, but as he was out of the city, the whys and wherefores were not to be had. Sunday it capped the climax by publishing an interview with McGovern, of which the following is an extract:

"The announcement of my candidacy for the United States senate was made, of course, with the understanding that if at any time it appears that the welfare of the party with which I have been identified, and which we all want to see go forard, wil be subserved by my withdrawal, why, I shall not hesitate to withdraw."

The story went to the Chicago newspapers that McGovern had come out for the senate in retaliation for the refusal of the La Follette organization to make him a delegate at large to the national republican convention. However that may be, the fact that as soon as he got back to town his unequivocal announcement of his senatorial candidacy was displayed with a string to its kite by which the Stephenson crowd could pull it back, indicates that they lost no time in getting to him with the "big stick" or some other happy thought which might have inspired his sudden decision to burn no bridges on this march to fame. "If at any time it appears that the welfare of the party * * * will be subserved by my withdrawal, why, I shall not hesitate to withdraw," says Mr. McGovern. And we bow to the suggestion that the "party" referred to is a "party" by the name of Stephenson.

We are not in sympathy with the proposed action of the Methodist church in putting Chancellor Day on trial for aspersions cast on President Roosevelt in his book, "A Raid on Prosperity." With the reactionary and bigoted sentiments expressed by the chancellor we have neither sympathy nor patience, but that he should not be at liberty to express his convictions, however erroneous, seems a departure from the tolerance of the times as wide of real christianity as is his attack on the president lacking in generosity. Our advice to the church is to let Mr. Day "talk his fool head off."

Some months ago The Tribune announced in its news dispatches that whatever portion of the fleet was not left in the Pacific would return to the Atlantic via the Suez caanl. Repeated denials of this statement have been made by rival news agencies, but Saturday the official announcement that this is the fact was published.

His System of Recovery.

Miss Dresswell had just returned after spending a week with a country friend. Imagine her consternation when she discovered her previously well stocked wardrobe was empty. "Gracious, George!" she said to her brother. "Where are all my clothes? And what in the world is that great black patch on the lawn?" The face of George exhibited all the well known signs of righteousness, and he met her gaze unflinchingly. "Maria," he replied consolingly, "you wrote to me that if I wanted the key of the billiard room I should find it in the pocket of your bolero." "Yes, yes!" "Well, I don't know a bolero from a fichu or a box plait, so I took all the things to the lawn and burned them. Then I recovered the key from the ashes." She froze him with a stare, and he is now thawing slowly on the kitchen stove. —Argonaut.

A Breakfast Dish.

Over in Chelsea a school teacher was engaged in her task of teaching a class of foreign children the English language. She was trying to make her pupils understand the meaning of the word fright, and asked if any one in the class could give a sentence containing the word.

Quick and confident was the reply of one little girl: "I have a sentence, teacher. We had fright eggs for breakfast this morning.—Boston Herald.

A Tired Request.

Two Viewpoints.

"Yes, she makes excuses, but he has to make allowances for them; that's what makes him so sore." —Philadelphia Press.

SPOTLIGHTS

"The Red Mill."

An attraction that will surely arouse the keenest interest here will be the presentation of the new Blossom and Herbert comic opera, "The Red Mill," by Charles Dillingham's company, which will be seen at the La Crosse theatre tonight. "The Red Mill" stands out as the most popular musical hit of the past three seasons and one that will prove popular for many seasons to come, possessing all the elements of an enduring success in both story and music. "The Red Mill" marks the nineteenth complete musical play by Victor Herbert, every one of which has scored an undeniable success and have proved the vehicle for most of the distinguished musical stars of the present day. Henry Blossom, the author of the book and lyrics, has aleady come to the front place as the American Gilbert, each of his writings having, like Herbert, proved immensely successful.

Ezra Kendall.

George Ade has become in the last half dozen years so famous that every theatregoer knows him, and his name as the author of a play means an evening of the utmost delight at the theatre. He was born in Brook, Indiana, and is a graduate of Purdue University, and after graduation he came to Chicago and became a newspaper reporter. While working on the Chicago News, he wrote a series of stories of the town and then "Some Fables in Slang" which gave him a national reputation. His first play was the Sultan of Sulu," a comic opera which met with enormous success, so great that it is still running to profitable patronage, although now in its seven year. This he followed with "Peggy from Paris," another comic opera, and then in rapid succession he wrote "The County Chairman," "The College Widow," "Artie," and his last and best play, "The Land of Dollars," in which Ezra Kendall will be seen here at the La Crosse theatre tomorrow.

FASHION HINTS

By MAY MANTON

5923 Ten Gored Skirt, 22 to 30 waist.

The skirt that is made with the seam at the front is a marked favorite of the season and allows of most effective treatment. This one is cut in ten gores and is made full and pretty at the lower portion by means of plaited flare portions inserted at the seams while it is absolutely smooth over the hips. In the illustration porcelain blue broadcloth is trimmed with black braid and stitched with belding silg, but the skirt can be utilized for combinations as well as for one moterial throughout and consequently suggests itself for remodeling at once. The gores are shaped after the latest style and the model is adapted to almost every skirting material with the trimming varied to suit individual taste. Banding if any sort can be applied as illustrated or in a separate design on each gore or, indeed, in any way that fancy may dictate, or the stitched finish only can be used.

The skirt is made in ten gores with the plaited portions joined to their edges below the stitchings and the fulness at the back is laid in inverted plaits.

The quantity of material required for the medium size is 12½ yards 27, 8½ yards either 44 or 52 inches wide when material has figure or nap; 7 yards 44, 6¾ yards 52 inches wide when material has neither figure nor nap, with 17½ yards of banding.

The pattern 5923 is cut in sizes for a 22, 24, 26, 28 and 30 inch waist measure and will be mailed to any address by the Fashion Department of this paper on receipt of ten cents (If in haste send an additional two-cent stamp for letter postage, which insures more prompt delivery.)

"OUR BEST PEOPLE"

(Cleveland Leader.)

All men are created equal, but they don't remain so. Some raise themselves above the ruck by their minds; others by their goodness; a third set by their services to the state. The individual character and the individual energy made for uplifts in a thousand different ways. And when these qualities descend from generation to generation, growing like a rolling snowball, there naturally comes a class of men and women that can be called, with all propriety, "our best people." There's an aristocracy of intellect, of good breeding, of lofty purposes, of humanitarianism, of love of country and home, of the spirit that strives and the power that conquers. Men and women of wealth belong to it by virtue of themselves, not their treasures. But the cheap, vulgar, shallow people who have money and money alone, and those still cheaper people who mimic them as far as possible, think that "our best people" are only those who have great wealth and who spend it with a brass band accompaniment.

SAVE THE WILD FOWL.

(Boston Transcript.)

There are plenty of proofs that several species of birds existed right here in New England which are found here no longer. The wild pigeon, wild turkey, pinnated grouse, sand-hill crane and the great auk have literally been extirpated from New England. The argument is that the shooting of birds at their mating season strikes at the source of their existence. Unless the spring and summer are made a close season we shall soon see no more of the curlews, plovers, wild swans, widgeons, wood duck, red duck and teal of New England. It is possible for the winged tribes to endure the thinning out of the shooting in the fall; but the slaughter at the pairing season threatens the existence of whole genera. Many would have disappeared before now, but for the protection they have received from the laws of Canada and in certain of our states during their spring migration.

CHAPTER XXXI

The Man Upon the Pavement

A well-meaning stage-door keeper for once had told the plain truth and there had been a man upon the pavement when Alban quitted the Regent Theatre.

Little more than six months ago, the identical fellow had been commissioned by Richard Gessner to seek Alban out and report upon his habits. He had visited the great ship-building yard, had made a hundred inquiries in Thrawl Street and the Commercial Road, had tracked his quarry to the Caves and carried his news thereafter triumphantly to Hampstead and his employer. Tonight his purpose was otherwise. He sought not gossip but a man, and that man now appeared before him upon the pavement, his hands thrust deep into his pockets, his head bent, his attitude that of utter dejection and despair.

"Mr. Kennedy, if you please."

The strange spoke beneath the shadow of a great lamp in the Charing Cross Road. Not hearing him immediately, Alban had arrived at the next lamp before the earnest entreaty arrested him and found him erect and watchful in a moment.

"I beg your pardon, sir; you are Mr. Kennedy, are you not?"

"My name, at least the half of it."

"Mr. Alban Kennedy, shall we say. I have been looking for you for you for three days, sir. It is not often that I search three days for anybody when his house is known. Forgive me, it is not my fault that there has been a delay."

Alban knew no more than the man in the moon what he was driving at, and he thought it must be all a mistake.

"What's it all about, old chap?" he exclaimed, falling into the manners of the street. "Why have you been hurrying yourself on my account?"

"To give you this letter, sir, and to ask you to accompany me."

Alban whistled, but took the note nevertheless and tore it open with trembling fingers. He thought that he recognized the handwriting, but was not sure. When he had read the letter through, he turned to the man and said that he would go with him.

"Then I will call a hansom, sir."

The detective blew a shrill whistle, and a hansom immediately tried to cannon an omnibus, an dsucceeding came skidding to the pavement. The two men entered without a word to each other; but to the driver the direction was Hampstead Heath. He, wise merchant, demurred with chosen phrase of weight, until a fare was named and then lashed his horse triumphantly.

"My lucky's in," he cried to a friend upon another box, "it's a quid if I ain't bilked."

Alban meanwhile took a cigarette from a paper packet, and asked his companion for a light. When he struck it an observer would have noticed that his hand was still shaking.

"Did you go down yonder?" he asked, indicating generally the neighborhood east of Aldgate.

"Searched every coffee shop in Whitechapel, sir."

"Ah, you weren't lucky. I have been living three days on Hampstead Heath."

"On Hampstead Heath? My godfather, I wish I'd known."

They were driving through Regent's Park by this time, and the darkness of a tempestuous night enshrouded them. Alban recalled that unforgotten evening of spring when, with the amiable Silas Geary for his companion, he had first driven to Mr. Gessner's house and had heard the story of Wonderland, as that very ordinary cleric had described it. What days he had lived through since then! And now this news surpassing all the miracles! What must it mean to him, and to her! Had they been fooling him again or might he dare to accept it for the truth? He knew not what to think. A surpassing excitement seized upon him and held him dumb. He felt that he would give years of his life to know.

They toiled up the long hill to the Heath and entered the grounds of "Five Gables" just as the church was striking eleven. There were lights in the Italian Garden and in the drawing-room. Just as it had been six months ago, so now the obliging Fellows opened the door to them. Alban gave him a kindly nod and asked him where Lois was.

"The young lady is there, in the hall, sir. Pardon me saying it, she seems much upset tonight.

"Mr. Gessner is still away?"

"On his yacht, sir. We think he is going to visit South America."

Alban waited for no more, but went straight on, his eyes half blinded by the glaring lights, his hands outstretched as though feeling for other hands to grasp them.

"Lois, I am here as you wished."

A deep sob answered him, a hot face was pressed close to his own.

"Alban," she said, "my father is dead!"

CHAPTER XXXII

In the Name of Humanity.

Very early upon the following morning, almost before it was light, Alban entered the familiar study at "Five Gables" and read his patron's letter. It had been written the day after he himself returned from Poland, and had long awaited him, there in that great lonely house. He opened it almost as thought it had been a message from the dead.

"I am leaving England today," the note went on, "and may be many months abroad. The unhappy death of Paul Boriskoff in the Schlusselburg will be already known to you, and will relieve you of any further anxiety upon his daughter's account. I have the assurance of the Minister of St. Petersburg that she will be released immediately and sent to "Five Gables" as I have wished. There I have made that provision for her future which I owe to my own past, and there she will live as your wife until the days of my exile are finished.

"You, Alban Kennedy, must henceforth be the agent of my fortune. To you, in the name of humanity, I entrust the realization of those dreams which have endeared you to me and made you as my own son. If there be salvation for the outcasts of this city by such labors as you will now undertake upon their behalf then let yours be the ministering hands ,and the people' gratitude. I have lived too long in the kingdom of the money-chaners either to accept your beliefs or to put them into practice. Go you out then as an Apostle in my name, that at my coming I may help you to real a rich harvest.

"My agents will be able at all times to tell upon what sea or in what haven I am to be found. I go in quest of that peace which the world has denied to me. But I carry your name before others in my memory, and if I live, I will return to call you my son."

So the letter went on, so Alban read it as the dawn broke and the great city woke to the labors of the day.

(THE END)

A Question of Names.

On one occasion a bishop who prided himself on never forgetting either the name or face of any clergyman in his diocese, happened to be traveling somewhere by rail, when, at a certain station, a clergyman got into the same carriage, in which the bishop sat.

The bishop recognized the man's face, but could not remember his name, and not wishing to acknowledge his forgetfulness, leaned forward, and, with a charming smile, said:

"Excuse me for forgetting but how do you spell your name?"

"J-o-n-e-s, my lord," was the reply.—Illustrated Bits.

A Difference Wanted.

She had come into the store to buy tablecloths and she stated in the beginning that she wanted something "new."

The salesman was patient and showed her everything in stock, but nothing suited.

"Oh, dear!" she exclaimed fussily, "haven't you anything different?"

The clerk brought out one of the discarded tablecloths that he had put back on the shelf and said, with an air of interest:

"Here is one of the very newest designs, madam. You see the center is in the middle and the border runs right around the edge."

"Why, yes. Let me have that one," she said eagerly.—Philadelphia Ledger.

SAVED HIMSELF BY THROWING REVERSE

ENGINEER MARVIN NARROWLY ESCAPED IN WRECK

PENNED INTO SMALL SPACE

But by Rare Presence of Mind He Got Lever Which Might Have Killed Him Out of the Way

But for his presence of mind in throwing the reverse lever out of the way when he felt the engine toppling over, H. A. Marvin, engineer on freight No. 77, would have been crushed to death in the wreck that occurred at Victory Friday.

At the time of the accident the report reaching La Crosse said that both the engineer and the fireman jumped. This was erroneous as Mr. Marvin stayed at his post.

According to his own story, when he felt the engine toppling over he threw the reverse lever ahead, knowing that he would be crushed between it and the ground when the engine fell. This is all that saved his life. As it was he was penned in a space a foot wide but fortunately received no serious injuries. He is confined to his home at present but will be able to return to his work shortly.

Mr. Semingson, the firemen on 77, who had his ribs broken in the smashup, is resting easily and will soon be able to be about.

REV. SANDERS IN SERIOUS CONDITION

The condition of Rev. L. L. Sanders, who has been taken to the La Crosse hospital suffering from a severe attack of pneumonia, is somewhat improved today. Whether his case will prove fatal is not known but he is in a serious condition. Rev. Sanders' father, W. L. Sanders, arrived in La Crosse today and is at the bedside of his son.

No services other than the regular Sunday school, were held at the Tabernacle Baptist church yesterday and it is not thought likely than any one will be called here to fill Rev. Sanders' pulpit during his illness.

AXLE BREAKS AT OPPORTUNE TIME

Locomotive No. 631 of the Milwaukee road on the Dubuque division brought a train into River Junction and was about to take another fast train south when the axel broke and a large drive wheel was dropped just before the train was about to leave for its fast trip.

Had the accident happened a few minutes later when the train was going at its usual rate of speed an accident would probably have been the result and several lives might have been lost.

FAIRBANK'S KIN FOR TAFT.

DALLAS, Texas, March 9.—Judge E. E. Cole of London, O., a brother-in-law of Vice President Fairbanks, spent part of Saturday in Dallas en route to San Antonio. He gave his relative this jolt in an interview:

"Mr. Fairbanks ought to have remained in the senate and should never have aspired to the presidency. Taft is going to beat him on the first ballot. Bryan is all right, exceedingly popular, but Taft is sure to be the next president. He is a greater man than Roosevelt."

It is all right to talk of ebing gathered to one's fathers, but did you ever stop to think that that means gathered to one's kin?

A GOOD NAME

See that the next cough remedy you buy is wrapped like this.

EVERY one desires to establish for himself a good name, but it takes time to win the confidence of your fellow men. Truth and perseverance are the alternate rungs on the ladder of success, and he who reaches the top must make no false step.

There are hundreds of cough medicines with all sorts of names, each claiming to be the best, but the test of time will prove whether or not they have established the right to be called the best.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has had thirty-five years of sale and use, and has cured coughs and colds under all conditions, in all countries and climates, and the verdict today is that it has no equal.

Careful selection of the drugs, intelligent and skillful compounding, the entire absence of opium, chloroform, or any other harmful ingredient, and the absolute purity of every article that goes into its composition, has built up and sustained its good name.

These are the things you should remember, and the next time you want a cough medicine, it is worth while to see that you get Chamberlain's and secure the virtues which a good name implies.

Every dealer who sells a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy guarantees it to give satisfaction or he will refund the money.

CRANKS WITH NEW WAR ENGINES BUZZ

CRAZY INVENTORS ARE THE PEST AT WASHINGTON

THOUSANDS OF DEATH GAGS

They Will Prevent War, or They Will Win Wars—Take Your Own Choice

Washington Bureau of
The La Crosse Tribune.
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 9.
(By J. C. Welliver.)

Thick as the locusts that plagued Egypt or the grasshoppers that pestered Kansas, cranks and inventors in whose brains buzz and whirr the bacilli of destruction swarm the capitol and demand of congress that it take up with their inventions. They are the geniuses who have evolved plans for wiping out a large share of the human race in case of war. They are prepared to obliterate whole armies and to sink battleships like mere pleasure craft if their inventions are accepted by the government and turned loose on the enemies of Uncle Sam.

Probably there was never before a time when congress was so beset with inventors of the enginery for destruction of life and property in war as it is now. They are thick about the naval affairs committee and the military committees. Some scientist has advanced a theory that a red corpuscle of a special variety is at work on the human race exciting it to war and tirring up sanguinary trouble on a great international scale. Some evidences exist that this theory is not far out of the way. At any rate, an extraordinary number of folks haunt the capitol nowadays who are anxious to be allowed to demonstrate how large segments of the population can be obliterated by the use of the right kind of weapons.

More Deadly Explosives.

Inventors of new types of torpedoes are numerous. Much of the inventive genius of those who would enhance the terrors of war is centered on naval warfare. If some of the inventors are justified in their assertions, torpedoes of an efficiency that will make navies almost useless have been developed. High explosive shells are also the subject of much inventive attention. Shells of a type that will crush the armor of a Dreadnaught at the distance of six or seven miles as if that armor were an eggshell have been accomplished, according to their inventors and promoters. It is well known that in recent years as fast as some new defensive idea is developed in naval construction, a new offensive idea to overcome it is originated. Just now, little is heard of the inventors of defensive elements in naval or land warfare. The trend is all toward the offensive, toward more deadly types of guns, shells and other projectiles that will carry farther and inflict greater damage, explosives of a more terrible sort than those hitherto used and the like. Of course, inventors of military balloons and airships are much in evidence about the halls of legislation. Each one is confident he has the right idea, and that he has evolved plans whereby it would be possible for the armies of this country to soar up in the empyrean and wipe out all their enemies before breakfast simply by dropping explosives among them. Inventors of long range, rapid-fire magazine rifles are among those who want the government to take up with their ideas.

Gun Inside of Torpedo.

One inventor has evolved the idea of a torpedo that carries a gun inside of it. On striking the side of a ship, the torpedo explodes and this explosion in turn fires the gun, which is supposed to wipe out the battleship A torpedo with a double-explosive capacity is one idea, the purpose of it being to make useless the chain or netting protection that is sometimes made use of to keep warships from being torpedoed.

A man in California has written some of the members of the house committee on naval affairs suggesting that if the sides of a battleship were greased it would lessen the ability of projectiles to inflict damage The idea has been referred to Secretary Metcalf for what it is worth. The advocate of it found that when his hammer was greased he could not drive a nail and he thought application of the principle to a battleship might be useful. The application of oil to the sides of a torpedo is another suggestion made. This suggestion may prove practicable, since most of the resistance to the passage of a torpedo or a boat through the water is due to the friction between the surface of the moving body and the water immediately in contact with that surface. Oil would tend to lessen this friction, and hence to increase the speed of the torpedo.

The favorite argument offered for the consumption of congress by the inventor of some alleged deadly engine of destruction is that it will be enonomy to take up with it as it will help make war impossible. If this does not serve the purpose, then there is the argument that high patriotic duty ought to lead to the adoption of the invention in question as a sure way to the discomfiture of all enemies of the republic.

It might be thought that the inventor of some new besom for sweeping of the armies and navies of the foes of the land would get a cold shoulder at the capitol. Strangely, he does not. He finds a good many sympathetic ears. Many a senator or representative on listening to the story of some new weapon of war finds his mind harking back to the days when Hiram Maxim trampeo the streets of Washington and the corridors of the capitol telling all whom he met of the wonderful gun he had invented, only to get it rejected by the United States. He went to England, the British government adopted it, and it has proven a wonderful addition to the equipment of the British armies. The men who were about congress when Maxim was turned down are pretty apt to wonder, when they are listening to some long-haired inventor, whether they have before them another Maxim. Consequently, they are not likely to be overhasty in refusing a hearing to whoever presents himself and says he has solved the problem of obliterating armies and sinking battleships.

OBJECTED TO HIS INSISTANT LOVE

BERTHA MIX HAS CHARLES M. JOHNSON "PINCHED"

DRAGGED HER IN THE MUD

And Has Been Annoying Her for Some Time With His Affections, She Says, So Warrant Follows

Objecting to the attentions forced upon her by Charles H. Johnson, who was married and has four children, Bertha Mix, a domestic, today secured a warrant for his arrest from the county court.

She alleges that Johnson follows her about and that he has been annoying her for a long time. She says that in this particular instance he threw her down, tore her clothing and dragged her in the mud, in one of his amorous outbursts. She screamed and was rescued from his embrace by pedestrians.

Johnson, haled into court today, said little, but asked the right to have an attorney. He was remanded to the county jail under $100 bond until Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, when he will be asked to explain the assault to the court.

THE TRIBUNE'S STYLE SUGGESTIONS

THE DRESSY TAILORED SUITS OF SPRING.

In contrast to the severely tailored suits are the more elaborate effects that show in their shape and trimming their French origin. The illustration is such a model of Chinese rose broadcloth, the skirt a circular cut, and the coat a loose sleeve affair pointed on the hips and slashed and trimmed with lacey galloon in the rose shade. Fit is accomplished by sun's rays tucks about the armseye. Quillings of cream lace face the front and sleeves. The hat worn with this is one of the fashionable black and white combinations, a roll sailor shape covered with shirred black malinette with white malinette ruching on the under brim, and a cluster of three white ostrich plumes at the left side.

WANT AID IN FIGHTING RATES

R. S. Lewis, president of the commercial club of Fargo, North Dakota, has written to the local board of trade for assistance in fighting against the railroad bill, recently passed to the effect that "carload ratings may be made on mixed carloads at the rate of the highest class article contained in the car."

It is not likely that the local board will give the matter any attention, however, as this territory is not so congessed.

WANT LA CROSSE IN MUNICIPAL LEAGUE

Word has been received by the local Board of Trade from the National Municipal league that they would like to add La Crosse to the list of cities now members of the organization.

The league boasts 130 affiliated organs, 1,400 individual members and 15 American conventions.

The matter may be taken up at the next meeting of the board.

The home of the league is Philadelphia and its president is Clinton Rogers Woodruff.

Some politicians have long fingers and short memories.

LEAGUE MEETING WEDNESDAY MAR. 11

POSTPONEMENT OF ONE DAY IS ANNOUNCED

SCHEDULE IS NOT READY

Committee Asks More Time Before Making Report—La Crosse Has 28 Men Signed for Try-out

The meeting of the Wisconsin-Illinois Baseball league has again been postponed until noon Wednesday, March 11. The postponement is due to the fact that the schedule committee was not ready to make their report.

There will be a meeting of the directors of the La Crosse Ball association tomorrow afternoon in the offices of Vice-president Paul W. Mahoney, at which time they will consider the matter of repairing the grounds and buildings of the La Crosse association to cost about $600.

Now Have 28 Men.

President John A. Elliott this morning announced that the association now has 28 men signed up, which is about three teams. The president was asked whether all these men would be asked to report for practice April 15, when the work will begin. He said that in the event that a team is secured to work out with the La Crosse Champs the majority of the new men would not be asked to report. "In case we can get a team to work out with the boys the fewer men we have to report the better," he said.

BOLD ROBBERS MAKE A HAUL.

WARSAW, Ind., March 9.—Climbing a telephone pole in plain view from a business street this morning, thieves entered the lodge rooms of the Elks, secured $200 in cash and other property, and escaped.

EXPESCT HOURLY THAT JAPS WILL STRIKE AT CHINA

The fomenting of rebellion in certain Chinese districts, in which Chinese youths, educated in Japan, are used as tools, and other representative measures are pointed out as proof of this point.

The conduct of the postal service in Manchuria is regarded as one of these sinister moves. Japan is harassing the imperial Chinese post.

Russia Aid to Japan

Russia has been a party to Japan's success in her postal policy. Shortly after the Russian-Japanese war China discovered that Japan and Russia had made secret compact by which the imperial Chinese postoffice was excluded from the through mail traffic between Europe and the east by way of Siberia and Manchuria. The mails from Europe are received by the Japanese imperial postoffice in the heart of Manchuria and are delivered by the same postoffice to addresses in Chinese cities. Japan reciprocated Russia's delivery of European mails by delivering all European bound mails to her.

Russia and Japan based their rights to this action on the grounds China was not a member of the international postal union. Then Japan submitted a scheme by which she would not only hold her present postalt and other communications in Manchuria, but would obtain certain unfair privileges over the Chinese imperial railways in Manchuria and China proper.

To these and other high handed proceedings China has objected strenuously, but the open breach did not come until the Tatsu incident, which is regarded as the final straw by high Chinese officials.

DYNAMITE UNDER $16,000,000 BRIDGE

NEW YORK, March 9.—John C. Jay, Jr., New York representative of the Pennsylvania Steel company, which is doing the steel work on the $16,000,000 Blackwell's island bridge, will begin tomorrow an investigation of a report that eight sticks of dynamite wer found on Friday under the western pier of the bridge.

The Pennsylvania Steel company has had a great deal of trouble with trade unions. The building of Blackwell's island bridge has been held up time and again since it was tsarted in 1901. The unions have fought against the open shop of work there.

A short time ago a railroad bridge across Pelham bay was destroyed. A big bridge at Cleveland recently met the same fate.

FIRE AT RUSHFORD

RUSHFORD, Minn., March 9. — The office of the Phoenix Telephone company was gutted by a fire, due to lightning entering the building on wires. Miss Maude Bathuck, who was on night service, was awakened at a quarter past one by the fire. She rushed to the fire house next door and rang the bell herself. This was in the midst of the storm and it was quite a little time before the company arrived. The flames were under control in a short time, but the interior of the office was well burned out.

GROCERS TO MEET

The regular meeting of the Retail Grocers' association will take place tomorrow evening in the Woodman hall at which time they will consider the matter of electing two delegates to attend the national convention at Washington, D. C.

SETS EIGHT HOUR GOSSIP LIMIT

CHICAGO, March 9.—What to do with women who have so little work to perform that they are compelled to find an outlet for surplus energy in gossip, came up for consideration yesterday at a meeting of the Women's Trade Union League of Chicago in Federation hall, 275 La Salle street.

Some of the members, notably the socialists, said gossiping women ought to be allowed to gossip to their heart's content. Mrs. Sophronisba P. Breckenridge of the University of Chicago, who spoke on "Legislative Limitations on the Hours of Work for Women in Industry," retorted that she didn't object to gossip if the women would limit gossiping to eight hours a day.

"Most married women have enough to do in their homes to keep busy," said Mrs. Breckenridge. "There are some, however, who haven't work enough. These women resort to gossiping and become lazq and shiftless."

Says Gossip Is Good Thing.

"God bless the gossiping women," said Siskind Goldbarth, socialist. "A man comes home at night, tired from his day's work—what pleasure would he have if his wife didn't gossip a little? Let the women gossip all they like. It's a good thing for all of us."

It is said that at an afternoon party, seven out of ten of the guests criticise the refreshments.

It's a good plan to do your best, but not your best friend.

DIGESTS ALL YOU EAT LEAVING NOTHING TO SOUR YOUR STOMACH

When your stomach is weak or lacking in Gastric juice, anything that you eat, no difference what it is, will sour on your stomach, raise the bile and acids to cover your food like oil on water, causing Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Stomach nervousness and Belching of sour poisons, which produce foul odors, nasty taste, bilious headache, Heartburn, Intestinal griping, and make you an object of misery. This is stomach trouble which can not be overcome with ordinary digestive medicines. It is caused by fermentation of your food, which will be remedied at once by a few 22-grain Triangules of Diapepsin, a preparation pleasant to take and as harmless as candy, though each will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood 3,000 grains of food.

Indigestion is a result, not a cause of your trouble. If the Stomach is sour and unhealthy, your food becomes tainted, and that's what is causing the Indigestion and gas on stomach nd other miseries. Pape's Diapepsin is an Antacid, most powerful digestive and thorough regulator for weak stomachs. These Triangules will digest any kind of food you put in your stomach and intestines in a natural way which makes you feel fine five minutes afterwards.

Any good Pharmacy here will supply you with a case of Pape's Diapepsin for fifty cents, which contains complete curative instructions; also tells the formula, so that you know exactly what you are taking. Just reading about Diapepsin will not help. You should go now and get a case. Put your Stomach in full health and by tomorrow you will forget the misery of Stomach trouble. Your case is not different. It isn't stomach nerves or catarrh of the stomach, or Gastritis, or Dyspepsia. It is Food rotting—Food Fermentation—that's all—and takes about five minutes to overcome.

MAY OPEN REFORM GUNS THIS WEEK

The regular monthly meeting of the Pastors' union of La Crosse was held at the Y. M. C. A. this morning, and a paper on the subject "Problem of Immigration," was given by Rev. A. L. Wood of the North side. The paper proved very interesting, going over the problem of immigration during the past few years and showed the extent of immigration at the present.

Following the reading of the paper by Rev. Wood, a secret meeting, behind closed doors, was held, when the reform movement was taken up and discussed.

Beyond that the subject was taken up the pastors refused to state their plans, although one intimated that the work would be started this week. He declined to divulge their plans.

INSURANCE SUIT IN COURT'S HANDS

One of the interesting cases tried at the Trempealeau county term of circuit court at Whitehall, from which Judge J. J. Fruit and Court reporter A. Harrison returned Saturday evening, was that of Mrs. Vera Sarah McNaughton, plaintiff, who is suing the Des Moines Life Insurance company, defendant, for the sum of $5,000 on an original policy of $5,000 which the insurance company say had elapsed.

The policy was taken out in June, 1903, on the life of her then husband, Adorium Judson McNaughton, who renewed his policy in 1905, at which time he was required by the company to swear to certain warranties to the effect that he had not seen a doctor since his last polisy was made out.

Claim Statements Were False

The defense of the company now is to the effect that the statement of conditions sworn to, by the deceased McNaughton, who died at Los Angeles, Cal., on Feb. 10, 1906, of cancer of the liver were false, while the plaintiff upholds that he reported the facts in good faith as far as were known to him at the time.

Reinstated July, 1905

The certificate was delivered to the company in writing, in July, 1905, when he was re-enlisted, to the effect that he was still in good health.

He was at that time engaged as proprietor of a drug store and ice cream store at Whitehall, and his wife was named as the beneficiary in the policy.

The jury found curious facts connected with the evidence and the final decision on the case will be handed down by the court in La Crosse on Friday next after a further hearing.

HOT SHOT FIRED AT ASYLUM COMMITTEE

PONTIAC, Ill., March 9.—Pontiac reformatory's prisoners, filling its 1,200 cells, who have gained for the institution the title of "Hell's Half-Acre of Illinois," rising in revolt in a plot to escape, was the vivid story told by Superintendent M. M. Mallary on the witness stand here today before the legislative investigating committee.

"Scum of God's creation," "The human failures of all forms of our civilization." "Men whose brutality would put that of a beast to shame," "Men who would commit murder for the very joy of killing," these were some of the phrases describing the prisoners which Superintendent Mallary hurled at the committee.

REAL ESTATE DEALS

A number of deeds were filed today with Register of Deeds Aiken at the county court house among which are the following:

Anna Meyer sold to Edward Meyer a farm in the town of Farmington.

For the consideration of $1,500 a farm in the town of Hamilton was transferred from Warren H. Collins and wife to Homer Jewett.

Heirs in Norway.

The first story will contain the model training department, which will consist of class rooms for eight grades, kindergarten department, eleven recitation rooms, physical instructor's room and the necessary toilet, locker and cloak rooms. This story will also provide two large society rooms to be used in connection with the the normal school proper. These two rooms being used after school hours the convenience of having same in the first story will be readily seen.

The manual training department will be located in the first story in a separate one story wing of the building.

The lighting for assembly hall and corridors will be by means of large open light courts. These light courts will extend from basement through first, second and third stories, so that the lighting of the assembly hall and all corridors in the seevral stories will be perfect. The assembly hall will be provided with large rostrum stage and gallery, handsomely finished and all ceilings beamed and paneled. The library room, 43x100 feet, located directly back of the assembly hall, will be used for study room as well as library, thereby doing away with the use of the assembly hall as a general study room. The third story will contain eight recitation rooms, four laboratories, three lecture rooms, drawing room, model room, toilet rooms and domestic science department, consisting of large kitchen, dining room, sewing room, pantries, etc.

Each laboratory will have work room, store room and dark room in connection with same.

The lighting, ventilating, heating and plumbing will be as perfect as the study and science of modern school house architecture can make these most important features.

The plans and specifications for the building have been prepared by Van Ryn & De Gelleke, architects, of Milwaukee. This firm has also prepared the plans and specifications for the proposed new normal school building to be built in the city of Milwaukee for which bids will be received at the same time as those for the La Crosse school.

OLD SORES FED AND KEPT OPEN BY IMPURITIES IN THE BLOOD

If Old Sores were due to outside influences, or if the cause was confined strictly to the diseased flesh around the ulcer, then external treatment and simple cleanliness would cure them. But the trouble is in the blood, which has become unhealthy and diseased, and keeps the sore open by continually discharging into it the impurities and poisons with which the circulation is filled. This poisonous condition of the blood may be the remains of some constitutional trouble; the effect of a long spell of sickness, or because the natural refuse of the body, which should pass off through the proper avenues, has been left in the system and absorbed into the blood. Again, the cause may be hereditary; but it does not matter how the poison becomes intrenched in the blood, the fact that the sore will not heal is evidence of a deep underlying cause. Salves, washes, lotions, etc., may cause the place to scab over temporarily, but the blood is not made any purer by such treatment, and soon the old inflammation and discharge will return and the sore be as bad or worse than before. S. S. S. goes down to the very bottom of the trouble, cleanses and purifies the blood, and makes a permanent cure. S. S. S. enriches and freshens the circulation so that instead of discharging unhealthy matter into the place, it carries rich, tissue-building, flesh-healing blood to the diseased parts and in every way assists in a natural cure of the sore. Book on Sores and Ulcers and any medical advice free to all who write.

DOCTOR'S ALL AGREE THIS TIME.

The most eminent writers on Materia Medica, whose works are consulted as authorities and guides in prescribing by physicians of all the different schools of practice, extol, in the most positive terms, the curative virtues of each and every ingredient entering into Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. In fact it is the only medicine, put up for sale through druggists for the cure of all diseases of the mucous surfaces, as nasal catarrh, throat, laryngeal, and bronchial affections attended by lingering, or hang-on-coughs that has any such professional endorsement—worth more than any amount of lay or non-professional testimonials.

Do not expect too much from the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It will not work miracles. It will not cure consumption in its advanced stages. No medicine will. Nor is the "Discovery" so good for a sudden attack of acute cough, but for the lingering, obstinate, hang-on-coughs, accompanying catarrhal, throat, laryngeal and bronchial affections, it is a most efficacious remedy. In cases accompained with wasting of flesh, night-sweats, weak stomach and poor digestion with faulty assimilation, and which, if neglected or badly treated are apt to lead to consumption, the "Discovery" has proven wonderfully successful in effecting cures.

Besides curing all the above distressing ailments, the "Golden Medical Discovery" is a specific for all diseases of the mucous membranes, as catarrh, whether of the nasal passages or of the stomach, bowels or pelvic organs. Even in its ulcerative stages it will yield to this sovereign remedy if its use be persevered in. In Chronic Catarrh of the Nasal passages, it is well, while taking the "Golden Medical Discovery" for the necessary constitutional treatment, to cleanse the passages freely two or three times a day with Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. This thorough course of treatment generally cures the worst cases.

If you have bitter or bad taste in the morning, poor or variable appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, constipated or irregular bowels, feel weak, easily tired, despondent, frequent headaches, pain or distress in "small of back," gnawing or distressed feeling in stomach, perhaps nausea, bitter or sour "risings" in throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, no medicine will relieve you more promptly or cure you more permanently than Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Perhaps only a part of the above symptoms will be present at one time and yet point to torpid liver or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot bread and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to its use until you are vigorous and strong.

Foul, impure blood can be made pure by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It enriches and purifies the blood thereby curing, pimples, blotches, eruptions and other cutaneous affections, as eczema, tetter, or salt-rheum, hives and other manifestations of impure blood.

In the cure of scrofulous swellings, enlarged glands, open eating ulcers, or old sores, the "Golden Medical Discovery" has performed the most marvelous cures. In cases of old sorgs, or open eating ulcers, it is well to apply to the open sores Dr. Pierce's All-Healing Salve, which possesses wonderful healing potency when used as an application to the sores in conjunction with the use of "Golden Medical Discovery" as a blood cleansing constitutional treatment. If your druggist don't happen to have the "All-Healing Salve" in stock, you can easily procure it by enclosing fifty-four cents in postage stamps to Dr. R. V. Pierce, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post. Most druggists keep it as well as the "Golden Medical Discovery."

Not only does the wrapper of every bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the famous medicine for weak stomach, torpid liver or biliousness and all catarrhal diseases wherever located, have printed upon it, in plain English, a full and complete list of all the ingredients composing it, but a small book has been compiled from numerous standard medical works, of all the different schools of practice, containing very numerous extracts from the writings of leading practitioners of medicine, endorsing in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient contained in Dr. Pierce's medicines. One of these little books will be mailed free to any one sending address on postal card or by letter, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and requesting the same. From this little book it will be learned that Dr. Pierce's medicines contain no alcohol, narcotics, mineral agents or other poisonous or injurious agents and that they are made from native, medicinal roots of great value.

Some of the most valuable ingredients contained in Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription for weak, nervous, over-worked, "run-down," nervous and debilitated women, were employed, long years ago, by the Indians for similar ailments affecting their squaws. In fact, one of the most valuable medicinal plants entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription was known to the Indians as "Squaw-Weed." Our knowledge of the uses of not a few of our most valuable native, medicinal plants was gained from the Indians.

As made up by improved and exact processes, the "Favorite Prescription" is a most efficient remedy for healing ulcerations, regulating all the womanly functions, correcting displacements, as prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion, overcoming painful periods, toning up the nerves and bringing about a perfect state of health. Sold by all dealers in medicines.

It's an insult to your intelligence for a dealer to endeavor to palm off upon you some nostrum of unknown composition in place of Dr. Pierce's world-famed medicines which are OF KNOWN COMPOSITION. Most dealers recommend Dr. Pierce's medicines because they know what they are made of and that the ingredients employed are among the most valuable that a medicine for like purposes can be made of. The same is true of leading physicians who do not hesitate to recommend these medicines, since they know exactly what they contain and that their ingredients are the very best known to medical science for the cure of the several diseases for which they are recommended.

With tricky dealers it is different.

Something else that pays them a little greater profit will be urged upon you as "just as good," or even better. You can hardly afford to accept a substitute of unknown composition and without any particular record of cures in place of Dr. Pierce's medicines which are OF KNOWN COMPOSITION and have a record of forty years of cures behind them. You know what you want and it is the dealer's business to supply that want. Insist upon it.

AURORA, Ill., March 9.—Mrs. Ida Leegson, formerly of Milwaukee, has scored on Dr. T. R. Allen, president of Aurora college, who gained fame for himself, his college, and Aurora, by a sixty-day diet on peanuts. Mrs. Leegson secured judgment against Dr. Allen for $25 in Justice Van Osdel's court. She says that the educator owes her $37 for more than a month's service as teacher and private secretary. It is said that Dr. Allen refused to pay her because, he said, she flirted with his pupils. Mrs. Leegson says that her employer became indignant because she made a laughing allusion to his peanut campaign. The teacher, a widow, formerly taught in the Seventh district school in Milwaukee under Principal A. N. Fairchild.

MICHIGAN FLOODS FATAL.

DETROIT, Mich., March 9.—Two lives have been lost in the flooded streams in lower Michigan during the last thirty-six hours. At Monroe, Frank Duval and son, Wilmer, started across a flooded bridge, when an ice cake struck the buggy and knocked it off into the deep water. The boy drowned.

Three boys drove into the St. Joseph river near Union City, where a bridge had been carried away by the flood and Garnett Anderson drowned.

At Adrian, fires in the waterworks and gas plant have been extinguished and the city has no fire protection.

Both the Pere Marquette and Ann Arbor railroads have been compelled by high water in the southeastern section of the state to detour their Toledo trains over the Michigan Central and Lake Shore tracks.

MINNESOTA AND THE NORTHWEST

WOMAN BOUND TO RAILROAD TRACK

ROBBERS ADD MURDER TO THEIR THIEVERY

FOUR TRAINS STRIKE BODY

Improvised Sling-Shot Found Near Scene of Mrs. Anna Layng's Death

ROCKFORD, Ill., March 9.—Drugged, robbed and laid on the tracks of the Burlington road that the train might kill her, is believed by the police of this city to have been the fate of Mrs. Anna Layng of Lincoln avenue, whose mutilated and crushed remains were picked up after four trains had passed over her body.

The mystery of the woman's death has excited the entire city and Chief Bergen has detailed half a dozen detectives on the case. The Milwaukee train due in Rockford at 7:55 p. m., struck the woman when it was passing near the chair factory which is about a mile outside the city.

Engineer Helm noticed something on the track when too late to stop. As soon as he could be stopped and backed to where the remains lay, Coroner Marsh was notified and drove to the scene, where he picked up the fragments of the body.

From the mangled conditions of the remains it is believed the body had been passed over by three trains shortly preceeding the one going to Milwaukee. A bottle found on the woman has been turned over to the city chemist, for analysis.

A man's handkerchief containing a large stone was found at the scene of the death. Mrs. Layng's bank book, showing that she had just drawn $50 from the bank was also found. The police theory now is that the man for whom they are searching drugged Mrs. Layng, beat her with the stone and left her body on the track.

MAJ. NOYES RESIGNS.

OMAHA, Neb., March 9.—Maj. C. R. Noyes, for four years a member of the general staff of the United States army, has resigned as adjutant general of the department of the Missouri, and will be returned to duty with the line. He was appointed to West Point from Wisconsin and was graduated in 1879.

You never hear anyone bragging much about his good habits being hereditary.

THIS GIRL IS THE "CHAMP" SKATER

MISS ROBINA LEONARD.

CLEVELAND, March 9. — Miss Robina Leonard of this city is out after the national championship among lady ice skaters. She has never been defeated. Allen I. Blanchard, honorary president of the W. S. A., states he never saw a woman who could touch Miss Leonard for speed and grace in skating. In the championships held here lately she won so easily that, according to Mr. Blanchard, her oppenents seemed to be standing still.

CATCH POULTRY THIEF

WINONA, March 9.—It is believed that in the arrest of Herman Richter here for stealing chickens from the coop of William Reibau that the mysterious chicken thefts that have been going on here all winter will be cleared up. Winona has much fine poultry and many of the coops have been entered this winter and some of the most valuable birds were taken. All of the coops were entered the same way, by breaking off the locks, and other things about the thefts indicate that they were all committed by the same person. The chickens stolen last night were found in Richter's home and the police believe they have a dead open and shut case.

New York—After an hour's trading market became somewhat irregular but tone was strong. The talk on the floor was still bullish on theory that there were plenty of uncovered shorts about some stop loss orders of that kind of specialist's books. Noble the certified check to the amount of $500 which was put on deposit with the board to protect the city if the contractor damaged any of the trees or property along the route of the Van Steenwyk house moved from Main and Seventh to Sixteenth and Cass by way of State and Seventeenth street.

A number of the limbs were cut from the trees enroute, but George Falk who made the inspection yesterday found that no complaints had been entered against the contractor and the check was subsequently returned.

KING GODFATHER TO MORGAN'S NIECE

LONDON, March 9.—J. Pierpont Morgan's progress in the royal set is the wonder of London. Scarcely is the printer's ink dry that announces the American financier's playing host to ehe English queen and Russia's dowager empress than the types are set to announce that on the eve of his departure for Baritz, King Edward announced that he would act os godfather to Mr. Morgan's grand niece, otherwise the Burns baby.

Mrs. Burns was a Miss Cavendish-Bentinck, and the king is very fond of the Cavendish-Bentincks.

POPE'S WRATH FALLS ON ABBE

DAY BRANDED BY COOKE

BRANDON, Vt., March 9.—"The reply of Chancellor Day to my charges reveals the thin and shabby texture of his defense," said Rev. George A. Cooke today. "That he has sold his character and his influence to the Standard Oil trust is so plain that he who runs may read. His statement that 'Cooke is something of a joke to those who knew him' and that 'he seems to have a mania to bring charges against some one' is childish and absurd on the very face of it.

Mr. Mulholland, who was a gold mine owner, disappeared when he went into the west, and it was not until recently that the couple again heard of each other.

Husband of Bertha Krupp, Richest Girl in the World, Must Serve as Private in German Army

Even being the husband of the richest woman in the world does not save a German subject from the obligation to serve as a private in the Kaiser's army. Herr von Bahlem-Halbach, who last year married Frauline Bertha Krupp, proprietress of the great Essen steel works, with an income of $5,000,000, has been summoned by the military authorities to undergo six weeks training as a reservist in the cavalry regiment in which he formerly served. Pictures of Herr and Fraulein are shown herewith.

HOLZHAY MODEL OF STATE'S PRISON

WARDEN SAYS THE DESPERADO SHOULD BE PARDONED

OPERATION CURED CRIMINAL

Following Treatment Bully Becomes a Student of Mild Disposition

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 9.—"Holzhay really should be pardoned," said Warden James Russell of the Northern Michigan penitentiary near Marquette. Warden Russell was speaking of Reidmund Holzhay, alias "Black Bart" Holzhay, who in 1889 had the northern part of Wisconsin and a portion of Michigan peninsula in a state of terror through his exploits. Alone and unaided he held up stages, robbed trains, and raided stores, in spite of the efforts of sheriffs and detectives to capture him, spurred on by the reward offered which aggregated $3,500.

"Holzhay was a 'bad actor' all right when he was first sent to the Marquette penitentiary," continued Warden Russell, "but he is an entirely different man now than what he was when he was first locked up. At that time he was inclined to be ugly and moody. When one of these fits came upon him he was liable to do most anything. At one time he held up a guard and placed him between himself and the officers who tried to take him. His fingers were shot off by the warden before he was secured. Under Warden Van Evera there began to be a change in Holzhay. The warden was not what is known as a prison man and he became interested in Holzhay and made a study of him. One result was that Holzhay came to trust him and when he felt one of his moody fits coming on, he would ask the warden to lock him up and not release him until it was over. This was always done and no further trouble with the man was had. Finally the warden had Holzhay committed to the asylum for the criminal insane. While there an operation was performed on him which led to considerable improvement in his temper. Just the nature of the operation I do not know, but an operation was performed, of that I am certain. He was returned to the penitentiary and from that time began to study and improve his mind and continued this until now he is at the present time one of the best informed men that I know.

MAYOR VETOES 2 LIGHT CONTRACTS

EAU CLAIRE, March 9.—Mayor Frawley vetoed both lighting propositions which had been accepted by the city council. He disapproved the proposition of the Welsbach street Lighting company of America to furnish street lights because the lights can be put in only where gas mains extend and because it is a serious question whether a foreign corporation can make a legal contract under a new law with a Wisconsin municipality. He also disapproved the proposition of the Chippewa Valley Railway, Light and Power company to furnish arc lights on the general ground that the city should wait until the railroad commission has adjusted local rates.

STALWARTS WILL FIGHT FOR BOB HARD

"STATE WIDE" CAMPAIGN IS AGAIN COMMENCED

SENTINEL PREDICTS SUCCESS

Declares That Old Crowd Hostile to La Follette Will Name Taft Delegates

MILWAUKEE, March 9.—The Sentinel, the state anti-La Follette organ, says:

"If Senator La Follette gets a solid delegation from Wisconsin he will have to fight for it, and fight hard. The supporters of Secretary Taft will put a full slate of delegates in the field, headed by four delegates at large and including district delegates in every district in the state.

The Business Men's Taft club of this city, which is at the head of the movement, has been quietly at work and through connections in the various districts has, after consultation, arranged a list which includes four delegates at large and two delegates in nearly every district in the state. Where there are vacancies these will be filled. The list as completed is as follows:

"Delegates at large—Gen. F. C. Winkler, Milwaukee; Capt. John M. Estes, Dunkirk, Dane county; H. O. Fairchild, Green Bay; Adolph E. Homstad, Black River Falls.

"It is the determination of those at the head of the movement to contest every district and keep La Follette men busy all the time from now until election day. From advices received by the Business Men's Taft club it is believed that the Taft men will be able to capture at least six and possibly more of the district delegates, and the leaders have strong hopes of electing some at least of the delegates at large. In any event they are certain that Senator La Follette will not secure the solid delegation in the state. From the beginning they felt there was an excellent fighting chance to capture three or perhaps four of the delegates in the two Milwaukee districts. With the new complications which have developed they are confident that the entire four will be Taft men."

Turn Your Face Into Dollars

Many a Man Has Failed Because His Face Was a Picture of Calamity.

It takes sunshine to produce a rose, a perfect rose. And so man, to be successful, must have sunshine inside. The life which has it not, which has no health and no happiness, is sour, surly, pessimistic, and a failure. The world already has too many vinegar faces that breathe ill-will and strife. The world wants joy, comfort, sunshine, and will cling to the man who has it, who radiates gladness and triumph wherever he is and under all circumstances.

Some people have a genius for seeking out the disagreeable, the crooked, the bad and the ugly. These are the destroyers; they travel in schools, they herd together for they love their kind, and the cheerful part of the world will have nothing to do with them.

And why is it that so many peddle disaster knowing at the same time that if they do, their lives will be ruined? Some people cannot help it, for pessimism usually comes from bodily disorders, and this cannot always be prevented. The stomach, for instance, is the most common cause of discontent, sour face, recklessness, digust and lack of ambition. A bad stomach,—there is the secret of many a failure. Anyone can have a good stomach, a strong stomach, a stomach that can take care of anything and everything that is put into it, no matter whether it is a very bad stomach now or not. Then why not have it?

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets do this very thing. One ingredient of these little tablets digests 3,000 grains of food, and no matter how bad is your dyspepsia or indigestion, these tablets will digest everything in your stomach, thoroughly and completely, and better and quicker than a healthy stomach can do the same thing. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure quickly loss of appetite, brash, irritation, burning sensation, nausea, heartburn, eructations, loss of vim and spirit, bad memory, and dyspepsia and indigestion in their worst forms.

No other little tablets in the world can do so much. You should carry Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets around with you wherever you go and take them after meals. Then only will you realize what it is to enjoy a meal, and what perfect digestion means. Your whole body and your mind will feel the effects; your vim will increase, you will be more satisfied with what the world does, you will think happier and be happier and your face will be one of supreme contentment. That will bring you success and then more success. Your face will bring you dollars. Try it. It will cost you just 50c. for a package of these wonderful Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, at any drug store on earth.

Send us your name and address today and we will at once send you by mail a sample package free. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldgs., Marshall, Mich.

OFFICIALS HERE TO PLAN IMPROVEMENTS

A party of Milwaukee road officials, including Division Superintendent P. C. Eldridge, Trainmaster W. B. Henrichs and District Carpenter N. Gregory, were in La Crosse the latter part of last week on a trip over the La Crosse division of that road. A considerable amount of improvements are contemplated by the officials of the road and because of their early visit the work will probably be started as soon as the weather permits.

RUSSIA'S FALLEN IDOL.

(New York Tribune.)

The case of General Stoessel may not be unique, but it certainly is exceptional. We have seen many court martials amid the aftermaths of wars and men who were at first acclaimed as heroes revealed afterward as common and base clay. We have seen sieges and campaigns refought before tribunals, with the judgments of the actual battlefields sometimes reversed and sometimes cinfirmed. But not in our day, we think, has another man been so suddenly cast down from the highest pinnacle of praise to the lowest depth of contempt and condemnation as has General Stoessel or has the aspect of another great military achievement been so completely and so rudely transformed.

STATE PAYS $6,074 IN MONTH.

MADISON, Wis., March 9.—During the thirty days beginning Feb. 6 and ending March 6, the secretary of state received claims for bounty on 232 wolves and 239 wild cats and lynxes, according to Chief Clerk L. B. Nagler. The state bounty on these amounts to $3,037, and since the counties pay an equal amount, it follows that the taxpayers of the state paid $6,074 during the last thirty days in an effort to rid the state of destructive wild animals.

PRINCIPALS IN THE FAMOUS GERMAN TRAGEDY IN 1907

MILL DAM BREAKS CAUSING OF FLOOD

REASON WHY LA CROSSE RIVER ROSE MADE CLEAR

PART OF BIG CREEK MILL OU.

Torrent Wrenched Off Corner of Stone Structure; Waters are Now Receding Fast

After the sudden rise of two feet in La Crosse river, from early Friday morning to Saturday it has today fallen about one foot.

The sudden rampage of the stream was caused by the breaking of the dam at Big Creek, between Sparta and Rockland, late Thursday evening.

H. Haacks, who resides near Big Creek, said today that the dam went out there Thursday evening. It is about 50 feet wide and had a drop of nearly 15 feet, and therefore holds a large amount of water.

When the break occurred it carried with it a corner of the feed mill which it had operated, and which is constructed of heavy stone throughout.

The mill was recently the property of H. Haacks but has been sold to Joseph Gillis, who resides about one and one-half miles from Big Creek.

No Lives Lost

It was at first feared that the path of the stream would not be large enough to accommodate the water as well as it did so that some of the homes along the river might have been washed out, but although the banks were overflowed the water was not high enough to cause any material damage. Some of the marsh lands in that vicinity were badly washed out.

Was Raging Torrent

All day Saturday La Crosse river, especially between the La Crosse Wagon bridge and the Burlington railroad bridge a short distance below, was a raging torrent. The La Crosse street railway company had a man stationed there from Friday morning to Saturday morning but no damage was done to the city bridge.

Floods Work on R. R. Bridge

The men who have been installing the concrete piers at the Burlington road bridge over La Crosse river have been at work on the fourth and last pier in the riverbed. The caisson had already been sunk and the riverbed prepared for the foundation of the pier which was to be laid on the following morning. By that time, however, the water as raging around the caisson, hich was soon flooded and nearly washed away. The barges which hold the steam engines were placed above the caisson and this protected it from being entirely washed out.

Feared for Bridge

The rise was so entirely unexpected that it was at first believed that the bridge would go out. It had been raining all night but the engineer in charge of the work could not believe that the stream had swollen to that extent by the rain and melting snow only. The piers had been removed in order to make room where the concrete piers were installed and these were in the swiftest part of the river. It therefore left the remaining piles in considerable danger of being weakened and washed out but fortunately they survived and the water is falling.

"Goosegreen" Saved

Goosegreen which is generally flooded when anything of this nature occurs did not suffer in the least, although the stage of water rose so as to be noticeable in that vicinity.

WILL PROBABLY PROVIDE CLERK

At the next meeting of the county board the special committee appointed to consider the resolution introduced for the providing of a clerk in the county court, will make their report. A meeting was held last Saturday and the proposition taken under consideration.

If the committee reports favorable a juvenile court will be installed. Similar work is now done by Judge Brindley, but he is compelled to take his own evidence in long hand, and it is the intention of the board to hire a stenographer to do this work and enable the judge to devote his attention to the case.

STALWARTS HAVE A SCHEME AGAINST BOB

Although repeatedly announced that there was no disposition on the part of this district to elect delegates to the national convention unfriendly to La Follette it has developed that there is a movement now on foot to elect Taft delegates.

Alex H. Arnold of Galesville and a running mate will be the candidates to oppose E. M. Wing of this city and W. L. Hauser of Mondovi who are the La Follette delegates.

The federal government will take steps to deport persons who spread anarchistic doctrines.

EATING WITH HIS STOMACH

This is particularly true when he uses soft starchy foods, which seldom get the necessary digestion by the saliva, as nature intended, because most people swallow such foods as quickly as possible. This leads to weakened digestive organs, fermentation, imperfect nutrition, and sometimes appendicitis.

Grape-Nuts

must be chewed, and for this, as well as other reasons, this food has saved many from chronic intestinal troubles and all the misery that means. If there's one thing about Grape-Nuts of greater interest than its scientific food qualities, it is its remarkable practical adaptability to all weakened conditions of the digestive organs and its power to build them up quickly.
